

Deadworld #24

Albert and Wayne are attacked accidentally by townspeople in northern Michigan. Kirk leaves the safety of his airplane for a small city that was a battleground and is surprised by an escaped convict, Clarence. King Zombie takes his army of zombies on a train to head up north in pursuit of a new gate opener. Albert is brought into the camp where John and Stacey are. They find out that a group of humans have taken over a nearby town called Wolverine. If they go through it they know that the humans will attack them for their supplies, horses, guns and women. They will have to find a way around.
